Hello

I attended the WAM meeting in Vancouver last week and wish to prepare a submission for my organization. However, a large number of other volunteer commitments (a popular and well-attended community event this coming weekend hosted by a group of which I am the President, a 3000 word newsletter submission deadline, 3 public consultation events on difference topics all of which require the preparation of speaking notes and 7 hours of meetings) will prevent me from being able to find time to prepare a submission until later next week.

We understood from a statement made at the Vancouver workshop that submissions received a few days late would still be accepted. Thus, I request your permission to make a submission on Thursday, May 6.

Thank you
